In the Market

For Transports

New York, July 15.—The chartering of transports to carry troops to China in coming months is in shipping circles. Private cable services state that fifteen German steamships now operating in the Atlantic trade have been requisitioned as war transports and supply ships by the German empire.

News is also received in shipping circles that the United States Government has actively in the market chartering steamers of all nationalities and supply ships for this country in connection with the Chinese outbreak.

Inquiry at the offices of the British lines failed to discover that any of their tonnage had been spoken by the British Government and agents did not expect to lose any of their vessels. They argued that any troops to be called into service by the British, additional to those already in the African war, would have to be obtained from India or some other dependency, and such a state of affairs could hardly be expected to call into service steamships of the Atlantic fleet. It was further argued that the fact that the boats would have to pass through the Suez canal would also mitigate against the government calling for the large class of steamships. For this reason, it was stated, there is little likelihood of tonnage now abroad having difficulty in obtaining steamship accommodation when they wish to return.

Twenty-two steamers have been taken from commercial channels. These steamships represent a gross tonnage of 106,000 gross tons and are, of course, but the beginning of the movement.

TO MAKE BRITISH FRIENDS.
Society Organized to Promote Anglo-Saxon Brotherhood.

Philadelphia, July 24.—In the belief that an open alliance with Great Britain would be an excellent thing for the United States, a society has been formed in Philadelphia, composed of many men powerful in the financial and political world.

The first meeting of this organization, which is known as the Transatlantic Society of America, was held about one week ago. The proceedings were kept secret, but today the plans of the organization became known through an application for a charter.

In this application the officers of the Anglo-American Society are given as follows: C. Stuart Patterson, president; Theo. C. Seary and John H. H. Converse, vice presidents; Alfred R. Wiggan, treasurer; Thomas C. Knapp, secretary. The board of governors consists of William D. Windsor, William P. Henszey, Charles Curtis Harrison, Rev. Horace F. Fuller, Edward H. Coates, Rev. J. L. Levy, Alexander Van Rensselaer, John Thompson, Alva B. Johnson, Fred Turnbull, G. E. Freyer, Joseph G. Rosengarten, Henry R. Edmunds and William H. Lucas.

Patterson is one of the most prominent financiers in this city. Mr. Seary, one of the vice presidents, is the president of the National Association of Manufacturers, and John H. Converse, the other vice president, is one of the firm operating the Baldwin Locomotive Works.

In the application to the court the object of the society is stated to be "the bringing into closer relations the people of the United States and Great Britain by the general strengthening of the political, social and commercial bonds which unite the two countries. This is to be done by tendering hospitality and manifesting friendship toward British subjects who may be temporarily sojourning in Philadelphia, and by collecting, preserving and disseminating information tending to educate public opinion in this direction.

The society is similar to one formed in England known as the Atlantic Union.
